OMNICOM SCHOOL OF LANGUAGES (TORONTO)
IS YOUR PATH TO CANADIAN EDUCATION

Canadian education has the highest quality standards and is considered to be one of the most prestigious among employers around the world. This is why so many international students are attending courses at colleges or universities in Canada. Back in their home countries, students often enjoy considerably higher salaries compared to those having domestic degrees and can climb the corporate ladder much faster. Recently, the Canadian government changed immigration policies thus making it easier for international students willing to become Canadians to stay in the country after completion of their university or college education. Those changes to laws made Canadian education even more attractive to students serious about their professional careers. And successful completion of our language courses will enable international students to qualify for higher level education.

However, in order to qualify for a study permit in Canada, international students have to comply with some regulations, the most important being sufficient knowledge of the English language. By far not every language school is recognized by the Canadian Immigration Authorities, thereby, making the right choice of language schools vital for your success as an international student in Canada. OMNICOM School of Languages in Toronto (www.omnicomstudy.com) is one of the oldest highly successful language schools in Canada helping students learn and perfect their English since 1974. We are fully recognized and accredited by Languages Canada and, thus, are your path to success at Canadian colleges and universities. OMNICOM School of Languages offers a full palette of language courses tailored to each student's needs and language proficiency. Attending our courses will not only provide you with solid language skills but will also guarantee that you are fully prepared to take any language proficiency test at Canadian colleges and universities. OMNICOM School of Languages is also an official ETS Authorized TOEFL iBT Center.

We will train you in English to ensure you pass all necessary tests required in order for you to meet with confidence the language requirements at any university and college. To make your path to a quality Canadian education even faster, OMNICOM School of Languages has a partnership with Durham College (www.durhamcollege.ca) – one of the most reputable colleges in Ontario offering professional education to Canadian and international students. Please learn about our unique winter packages at www.omnicomstudy.com.
